TEDDY'S TERRORS PLAN BIG TRIP

Intend to Spend $20,000 Showing Washingtonians a "Time."

SAN PEDRO OFFICIALS AMONG ITS MEMBERS.

J. W. F. Diss, fire commissioner in Los Angeles and general right of way and claim agent for the San Pedro, Los Angeles & Salt Lake Railroad company, Who is stopping at the Knutsford hotel, is the presiding officer of one of the west of the mighty Mississippi river. Its name, "Teddy's Terrors," gives one an insight into its party affiliation. And its motto: "We Don't Make Candidates; We Elect Them," is indicative of its purpose. The organization's name carries with it the inference that its existence does not antedate President Roosevelt's induction into office as the chief executive of the United States. Membership is limited to 100 men. "Teddy's Terrors" was the orly political organization in the United States which dined at the Glenwood hotel with the president, at his earnest solicitation, when he was at Riverside, Cal., during his recent tour of the country.

The organization's special train met most peculiar political organizations bis recent tour of the country.

The organization's special train met the president when he crossed the state line into California. At that point the secret service men had to give way to the "Terrors," and the usual pilot train, which preceded the presidential train, was abandoned for a few days. The special of the "Terrors" took its place and the safety of the chief executive was as zealously guarded by those 100 mcn in their special Pullman train as though it were loaded with secret service men.

And if President Roosevelt is inaugurated for his second term—each member of the organization is willing to stake his last cent that he will be—the club intends to go to Washington 100 strong and to spend $20,000 showing the president and the east how "Teddy's Terrors" can shoot up the national capital one minute of the day, clad in typical cowboy costumes, and half an hour later appear at the beginner table our later appear at the banquet table

Former Changes in Costume.

When President Roosevelt was re-ceived on the California state line the "Terrors" were cowboys pure and simple, their dress being typical of the man who rides the Texas deck of a fractious broncho on the sagebrush-covered plains. It was not until Riverside was reached that a transformation took place. When the town was entered the Sa of election the club cease, to exist as a political organization, until the next election. In the interim it is a social organization. If it has succeeded in electing its ticket, the "Terrors" terrorize in cowboy fashion. If they are on the losing side they profit by the mistakes of their last campaign when they engage in another.

first invitation extended him to visit the Pacific coast when it became rumored that he was contemplating such a tour. A large sheep was killed. The hide was tanned, with the wool well preserved upon the outside. The invitation, couched in cowboy language, was burned in the hide. Encased in a pollehed rosewood box, with gold and silver trimmings, the invitation was sent to the president. They preceded him through the streets, acting like a lot of cowboys in from the annual round-up to have the time of their life.

The word was passed around that the president had expressed the wish that the members of the club, the full look dine with him. In less than an hour later every member of the club presented himself to President Roosevelt attired in evening dress—from cowboys to merchant, newspaper men, lawer, banker and muiti-millionaire had the Teddy's Terrors' changed in a few minutes.
